To load the software package, click Browse under the Load package field. Locate the package on your computer and then click load. An example of a software package name is evo_x7_rmt-21.0.6.4.pkg.

Once complete, you will see a completed pop up notification.

To load the options file, click Browse under the Load Options File field. Locate the options file on your computer and then click load.

Once complete, you will see a completed pop up notification.

After both the package and options file have been loaded, click Restart under the Restart Device field.
